Your policy contains Endorsement HO84, which is a Wind, Windstorm, or Hail Roof Payment Schedule Endorsement. For purposes of this endorsement, roof means the roofing material exposed to the weather, the underlayment applies for moisture protection and all flashings, drip edges, vents, vent caps, turbines, roof decking, and roof accessories.

In the event of a covered loss to the roof of the dwelling coverage A or other structures coverage B, caused by Wind, Windstorm, or Hail, we will pay the lesser of the amount necessary to repair or replace the roof, the applicable limit shown in your declarations for Coverage A and/or Coverage B or the Roof Payment Schedule amount which is the applicable percentage of the replacement cost of the roof as indicated in the Roof Payment Schedule. The applicable percentage will be based on the dwelling and other structure's roof age and the type of roofing material that is exposed to the weather at the time of loss as determined by us.

If the roof contains more than one type of roofing material that is exposed to the weather, we will settle the covered loss based on the predominant type of roofing material that is exposed to the weather.

“NOTE - MORTGAGEE LISTED ON PAYMENT: Mortgage companies have an insurable interest in property that serves as security for their loans. In accordance with the Mortgagee Clause in your policy, your mortgagee is included as a payee on your claim draft. Please contact your lender directly for information on how to process your payment.”
